THE SQUARE RING, A cornerstone of the dinh van vocabulary.

Created in 1965, the dinh van square wedding band embodies the boldness of a designer who has challenged the conventions of jewelry since his early days. Jean Dinh Van imagined a ring with an unexpected geometry: a softened, refined square, designed for everyday wear. A simple gesture, a powerful idea — and a signature that has become iconic. For lovers of design and symbols, the square wedding band is much more than a piece of jewelry: it is a declaration of independence, a tribute to the freedom to love differently. Elegant and modern, it stands the test of time without ever betraying itself. Its square shape naturally hugs the finger, offering unparalleled comfort — “because it’s not round.” Practical, it doesn’t twist; stable, it remains true to its line, as well as its promises. The square, a symbol of stability and balance. A wedding ring that, for sixty years, has sealed the most unique unions.

TUBULAR RING, The very dinh van alternative.

The Pulse and Seventies collections offer to the future newlyweds the opportunity to share the same design through unisex rings.

They celebrate the tubular shape — a sleek cylinder designed by Jean Dinh Van in the mid 1970s — which has since become an essential signature of modern jewelry design. The rings in the Pulse collection are distinguished by their chiseled lines and delicate openwork. Available in yellow, rose, or white gold, they are brought to life with a unique visual rhythm thanks to the diamonds set in cadence.

The Seventies collection, meanwhile, captivates with its taut lines and softened angles, inspired by a simple key ring that has become an iconic piece of jewelry.

MENOTTES DINH VAN The essential bond.

The ultimate symbol of attachment, the Menottes dinh van transcend jewelry to become a language of modern love. Two identical shapes that unite and only hold together: a clasp that has become an emblem, a design that has become an icon. They remind us that a true bond does not restrain, it connects — free, faithful, ever-present. Chained by links, unchained by spirit, the Handcuffs embody the dinh van signature: jewelry that expresses the essential, love in its purest form.

ABOUT DINH VAN

In 1965, guided purely by his instinct, Jean Dinh Van created a jewelry brand that nobody had been expecting. Iconoclastic by nature, he worked the metal in his hands like a sculptor, following wherever his creative impulses led the piece. Jean Dinh Van had a pure and simple vision of jewelry: jewelry that speaks a language steeped in design, with pieces for everyone that can be worn anywhere, any time, and with anything. Pieces of jewelry that would shake up the norms of the Place Vendôme by enhancing everyday objects.
