EXCLUSIVE COMING SOON: THE AMERICAN VINTAGE x TOPOLOGY COLLAB

American Vintage and Topologie have teamed up for a capsule collection of clothing and accessories available from mid-August 2025 💜

INSPIRATIONS

This original project brings together the Marseille lifestyle and Californian cool of AMV with the French-Japanese aesthetic and functional minimalism of Topologie.

The AMV x Topologie collab is urban, technical and summery, merging the best of both brands, their references and their inspirations.

CAPSULE

In terms of clothing, AMV's timeless FIZVALLEY has been reinvented in soft ecru and lilac, enhanced by fuchsia pink, azure blue and orange.

For accessories, Topologie is redesigning its iconic bags and cords in new colours, created exclusively for the collab. A quilted bag, a reversible bucket bag and two climbing-style cords create a mini wardrobe of collectable accessories.

What you need to know:

Inspired by the United States, Michaël Azoulay founded the American Vintage brand in Marseille in 2005. Influenced by the great outdoors and the resolutely relaxed atmosphere that emanates from it, he decided to reinvent that most timeless of basics: the t-shirt. As the seasons passed by, the collections expanded, becoming structured around more elaborate clothes. American Vintage now has men's, women's and kids' lines, with colours and fabrics, the house's DNA, that excite and energise.

Founded by climbing enthusiasts in 2018, Topologie embodies the fusion of functional beauty and urban fashion, designing everyday accessories with the elegance of French-Japanese clothing. With stores in Paris, Tokyo, New York, London, Taipei and Hong Kong, Topologie regularly teams up with artists and fashion labels for exclusive international capsules.
